Core continuing professional development (CPD) Topics for the European dentist. Bailey et al. Eur J Dent Educ 17 (Suppl. 1) (2013) 23-28

'The training should address a variety of situations where a patient's medical history and medically related issues impact on the dental management of a patient. The learning outcomes should support the delivery of routine dental care, by a primary care practitioner, for patients whose medical/systemic condition (s) may influence the appropriate referral of patients when there is a need for specialist input to patients' treatment. This should be updated every 5 years and may involve a series of courses covering a variety of issues relevant to the management of the medically compromised patient.'

10. What CPD topics should be covered for Medically Compromised Patients?

11. Give your top 5 ranked CPD topics for Medically Compromised Patients.
